HERE'S A ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Girl Living Near Bushkill Answers at Ad. for a Wife .- The Result.

Stroudsburg, April 29.-Miss Freden berg, of Bushkill, in a spirit of playfulness, recently answered a matrimonial advertisement published in a western paper by a well-to-do German. Without replying to her letter he started East, came to the place, inquired for the young lady, and stated his errand. Her parents were angry and she was forbidden to see him. He remained in the vicinity for several days, sought frequent interviews with the family, presented his claims, and stated that he owned three of four good farms out west, and wanted someone to share it with him, and had taken that means to secure a life compan ion. The Fredenbergs finally became impressed with the truth of what he said and the girl reluctantly consented to marry him. He took her to New York, bought her new dresses and other things dear to the feminine heart, and after spend-ing a short time there sightseing, they went to Chicago where another two or three weeks were enjoyed before proceeding to his home. She wrote to her parents stating that she had found everything as her husband had represented and was very much pleased so far with her venture A short time passed and then came to the Fredenberg family an invitation to join the daughter and her German husband. He sent word that he had enough for all of them and would welcome them to the West. They finally decided to go and are now living in one of the western states, in luxury compared with what they had back in the mountains of Pike county. least, according to the Times, so they write to their old friends at home.

PRACTICAL TINNERS and PLUMBERS Sole Agents for Richardson-Boynton's Furnaces and Rangse.

Had times been good and money plenty we would not have one pair of these expensive, real lace curtains on hand that we bought at the Bankrupt Stock of Kerr, Son & Co. But money is tight and imitations have the field, because they look well at a distance and cost little money. Well, the Spring Curtains, including Cluny, Brussels, and Point Laces, Orientals, Rennaissance, Marie Antoinette and other high class curtains have staid with us. We must sell them; we have no option in the matter, and for this week we will sell the highest grade of curtains that ever came to this city at common quality prices. It's a shame, but there's no help for it.
